

CALL FOR PARTICIPATION

University of Kentucky Graduate Appalachian Research Community presents
The Sixth Annual UK Appalachian Research Community
Symposium & Arts Showcase

<https://appalachiancenter.as.uky.edu/annual-research-symposium>

Saturday, March 7, 2015

9:00 am-5:00 pm

University of Kentucky
Lexington, Kentucky

The University of Kentucky (UK) Appalachian Center, Appalachian Studies, and the Graduate Appalachian Research Community (GARC) seek to promote interdisciplinary dialogue on issues in Appalachia. We are proud to follow up our first five successful symposia with the 2015 UK Appalachian Research Symposium and Arts Showcase. We extend invitations to both undergraduate and graduate students of all disciplines who are currently attending an accredited Kentucky university or college, and registration is free for both presenters and attendees. The symposium is intended to foster a supportive community in which students from various fields can present their Appalachian-based research and creative work, learn from each other's findings, and discuss research and practice obstacles, successes and potential points of collaboration. Students creating performance or visual artworks related to Appalachia are strongly encouraged to participate as well.

This year our featured keynote speaker will be Dr. Lisa Conley. Lisa Conley completed her PhD in Sociology at the University of Kentucky. Her dissertation, "Talking Food: Motivations of Home Food Preservation Practitioners in Kentucky" was a qualitative urban-rural comparison of home gardeners and those who preserve foods at home through canning, drying, freezing, or other methods. This dissertation examined the role traditional foodways, environmental sustainability, and local food politics motivate the self-provisioning practices of people in rural Kentucky (Wolfe and Lawrence Counties) and urban Kentucky (Fayette and Jefferson Counties.) Lisa holds a MS in Criminal Justice from Eastern Kentucky

University where she focused on environmental justice and corporate criminality and a BS in Sociology also from Eastern Kentucky University. As an undergraduate she was a member of the Martin County Coal Slurry Spill research team working with Dr. Stephanie McSpirit, ECU and Dr. Shaunna Scott, UK. Lisa has taught several courses at Eastern Kentucky University and University of Kentucky in the departments of Criminal Justice, Women and Gender Studies, and Sociology. She was also a graduate assistant for the UK Appalachian Center from 2009-2011 where she also served as President of the Graduate Appalachian Research Community. She is currently the Director of Safety City in Lexington, KY.

Requirements and Important Information:

- Work must be topically related to Appalachia, original, and produced in the last 3 years.
- To be considered for inclusion in the Research Symposium OR the Arts Showcase students should submit a 200-250 word abstract online by midnight, February 15, 2015. Notice of submission acceptance will be emailed to the student within one week. To submit the abstract, check the GARC tab on <https://appalachiancenter.as.uky.edu/> and look for the abstract submission link.
- Registration for presenters is online and must be completed by midnight February 28, 2015. To register, check the GARC tab on <https://appalachiancenter.as.uky.edu/> and look for the presenter registration link.
- Registration is free for both presenters and other attendees affiliated with an accredited Kentucky university or college. You are encouraged to attend even if you are not presenting. Those who want to attend, but not present, must also register online but have until midnight February 28, 2015. To register, check the GARC tab on <https://appalachiancenter.as.uky.edu/> and look for the non-presenter registration link. Registration guarantees seating in our facilities, a light breakfast, and lunch, so if you choose to register the day of the conference, we will aim to accommodate everyone.
- Presentation formats include:
 - Scholarly papers and organized panels
 - Scholarly posters
 - Roundtable conversations on Appalachian issues
 - Films, music, plays, art, and creative writing
- Projectors will be provided for those using PowerPoint. Participants will be organized into panels of similar topics. Each panel must decide amongst themselves who will bring their own laptops. A panel chair will be assigned to each panel and will contact participants before the conference to organize presentations. Time allotted for an individual paper presentation will be no longer than 15 minutes, with 10 minutes reserved for Q & A after each panel presentation. Each arts showcase participant must include their work in the showcase and may opt to also give a paper talk about it as well.
- Co-presentations are allowed. Please name co-presenters in your online abstract submission.

- Lunch will be provided for registered presenters. On the online registration, please mark if you have dietary preferences or want a vegetarian meal. Those not attending the luncheon are free to bring their own lunch or visit one of the many local restaurants listed on our website.

Please have the following information ready when you register online.

1. Name(s), email address(es), and institutional affiliation(s) of all participants.
2. Title of your presentation, panel, or art/performance and (for organized panels) the title of each presentation on the panel.
3. Type of Presentation: Paper, Poster/Exhibit, Panel, Film, Workshop, or Interactive Session. Indicate whether your submission is an individual presentation or an organized panel. All participants must register for the conference.
4. An abstract of 200-250 words for your paper, session, panel, activity, or artwork. In the case of a full-panel proposal, please submit an abstract from each speaker after the abstract describing the whole panel.
5. Types of media equipment needed (if any) and whether an Internet connection is necessary for your presentation.
6. Indicate the panel chair for your panel or if you are willing to be a panel chair on other panels.
7. Whether you will be attending the luncheon.

Important Dates:

- February 15, 2015: Presenter abstracts due
- February 28, 2015: Registration due for both presenters and non-presenting attendees

For further questions please contact GARC President Kathryn Engle at kathryn.engle@uky.edu.

Disclaimer: As the artist, you are responsible for the handling and display of your artwork. You will be expected to follow the standard presentation guidelines for your discipline. The University of Kentucky and/or the UK Graduate Appalachian Research Community are not responsible for damage or theft that may occur to your artwork/instruments/or any additional equipment you decide to bring. For artwork: an easel will be provided to you upon request, or you may include these in your slide presentation. Please request an easel or projector in your abstract. For performance, additional audio visual equipment will be provided to you if requested. You must include this information in your abstract.

